WHAT IS NATURAL HERD HEALTH™?

307 Ranch™ Natural Herd Health™ is designed to deliver quality nutrition to your livestock in a clean, efficient and effective vitamin and mineral tub. Livestock are attracted to the aroma and flavor while ranchers are impressed by the quality and results. Natural Herd Health™ is loaded with quality, all-natural ingredients that enhance and maintain the health of your herd.

APPLE CIDER VINEGAR

Apple cider vinegar is loaded with natural benefits for livestock. The tub attracts the animals to the tub due to the silage smell and the apple flavor is very appealing. Apple cider vinegar helps to break down feed so that nutrients are absorbed at a higher rate. This helps to lower costs as the animals are properly digesting the feed.

Natural Herd Health™ is formulated using apple cider vinegar with the “mother”. This unpasteurized version contains naturally-occurring enzymes that contribute to better gut health by fighting off harmful bacteria. It also is a natural de-worming agent.

Studies have shown that livestock that are exposed to apple cider vinegar graze 25% LESS due to their ability to better process the grasses they eat. Less grazing helps preserve pastures longer when feed is limited.

CONDITIONER

Conditioner is an all-natural volcanic clay that is collected from naturally-occurring mineral deposits. It contains a wide variety of trace minerals (calcium, phosphorus, salt, magnesium, sulfur, copper, iron, manganese, etc.) that increase the ability to improve gut health and nutrient absorption.

Conditioner is naturally high in pH which helps settle the gut and buffer acid production. It also features bentonite clay which binds to contaminants and flushes them out so more nutrients are absorbed without toxins. It is a vital supplement for all types of livestock that helps aid in better feed consumption, higher conception rates, less stress and improved coat quality.

LIVESTOCK ARE ATTRACTED TO THE AROMA AND FLAVOR WHILE RANCHERS ARE IMPRESSED BY THE QUALITY AND RESULTS.

LASSAHOL™

307 Ranch™ Lassahol™ is a natural high-energy feed supplement derived from fermented molasses. Through Lassahol™, hydrogen is added to the rumen which improves overall digestion. With better digestion, cattle ingest more nutrients from foliage and reduce the possibility over-grazing.

INDEPENDENT SALT

Independent salt is an all-natural salt that retains all the natural beneficial elements that are typically stripped by the bleaching process. This high-quality salt helps enhance excellent bone growth, improve quality muscle growth, maintain the nervous system and encourage healthy weaning weights.

Independent salt also contributes to better hydration as it neutralizes and eliminates nitrates from grass and water that are consumed daily.

GARLIC

Garlic is extremely beneficial for livestock on many levels. It is naturally antibacterial, antiviral and contains many antioxidant properties. By consuming garlic in the feed regimen, the immune system is supported to help fight off sickness. As a positive, natural side effect, flies are averse to garlic. This makes them less likely to approach livestock or their manure which limits fly infestation and reproduction.

BICARBONATE

Bicarbonate is added to help maintain healthy pH in livestock. With a balanced pH, livestock are better hydrated, have improved digestion, maintain better bone growth and are more equipped to fight off infection.

CORN

Corn contains a daily dose of high-quantity protein which helps with muscle maintenance and development. It also has a high level of insoluble fiber with helps rations move through the digestive tract more effectively.
